Conversation with Marcus Jackson

Book Overview with Marcus Jackson and Madeline Jackson

Christians, God Says You Are Priests, 1 Peter 2:9

The following is the email sent to Marcus a week before our podcast call.

Marcus,

Here are the five central questions around which we will build our conversation. I like to have a theme for each interview and the one I believe is good for our conversation is a quote by A. W. Tozier:

“What comes into our minds when we think about God is the most important thing about us...”

1. Please tell us a little bit about who Marcus Wilson is today, and what you find occupies most of your time.
 - a. This is an opportunity for you to share with the listeners something about yourself you’d like them to know
2. How long have you been a Christian?, and how would you define your conversation experience?
 - a. Responses can go in several different directions – the target is when you knew with certainty you’d passed from death to life.
3. When you think of the phrase “Believe God” - what comes to your mind as the top three things we should believe God about?
4. When you think of the phrase “Follow Jesus,” what comes to your mind as the top three ways we should follow Jesus?
5. Given you are not ashamed to let others know you are a Christian on your professional and social media platforms, what kind of response do you get from secular clients and others encountering your materials.

We’ll take no longer than 20 to 25 minutes to cover these questions in a similar conversation we had on the phone, lite, open, engaging. We’ll tie all this together and segway into a 10 to 15 minute discussion introducing your book. This can be a time when you and your mom are both on the phone to discuss.

Looking forward to Friday and out time together. See you on Zoom.

Grace and Peace.
